ANZASW
Ethics and Principles

• Promote independence for clients

• Advocate equality, solidarity, unit and connectedness among human beings

• Does not discriminate on the grounds of gender, age, disability, colour, race, religion, language, political beliefs, or sexual orientation

• Uphold value of democracy and human rights

• Protect client’s integrity

• Seek highest possible clients participation in their problem solving

• Value client’s self-determination and minimise the use of compulsion

• Does not support individuals, groups, or political forces using terrorism or brutality

• Undertake research on a scientific basis

• Recognise and accept Maori as Tangata Whenua of Aotearoa and that the social worker’s role is to achieve social justice for Maori at both a structural and individual level within the spirit of the Te Tiriti O Waitangi

• Take personal responsibility for social work practice
